MURPHY HONORED BY NYACK COLLEGE

New City, NY (January 30, 2015) – Last week, County Legislator John Murphy was honored at Nyack College's Tenth Anniversary Social Justice Day Celebration. As part of the observation of the Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday, Nyack College began a decade ago to hold a Social Justice Celebration to keep alive Dr. King's dream of the "beloved community." Legislator John Murphy has not only served his community as the longest serving County Legislator for almost 44 years, but as the founder and president of several non-profits, most notably, Homes For Heroes, which provides homes for homeless Veterans, Camp Venture, which serves the developmentally disabled, Loeb House, which provides homes for the mentally ill, and Joseph's home, which serves the homeless.

"Over the past 43 years I have represented all or part of Orangetown on the Rockland County Legislature and have always thought it to be a 'Hidden Treasure.' It is an oasis of civility and humanitarianism in an often cruel world;" said Murphy, "Nyack College sheds light and warmth by its values and the conduct of its students. What a blessing to Rockland County."
