Re: GENERAL MUNICIPAL LAW REVIEW: Section 239 L and M

Map Date: 10/24/2013

Date Review Received: 11/13/2013

Item: BAIS MEDRASH OF ROCKLAND (SV-789C)

Variations for lot area, front yard, side yard, rear yard, floor area ratio and parking to allow the construction, maintenance and use of a two-story, 13,626 SF seminary and dormitory building on .5371 acres in a POR zoning district. An existing structure will be demolished and a temporary trailer will be removed upon completion of the new building.

The County of Rockland Department of Planning has reviewed the above item. Acting under the terms of the above GML powers and those vested by the County of Rockland Charter, I, the Commissioner of Planning, hereby:

*Disapprove

Seminaries are allowed as a special permit use in the POR zoning district subject to Section 255-27 of the Village of Spring Valley's Zoning Code. Dormitories are also permitted in this zone as an accessory use to a seminary. The individual standards and requirements for dormitories are listed in Section 255-28.B. The proposal before us fails to meet several of the special permit standards as well as many of the POR zoning district bulk standards. By definition, a special permit use is held to a higher standard of review. This proposal is deficient on numerous levels.

The required minimum lot area of 1,800 SF per dormitory bed is not achieved for the current 18 students. This minimum must be exclusive of the area allocated and devoted to the principal and other accessory buildings including the required yards and/or setback, buffers and parking facilities for said buildings as required in Section 255-28.B.(1). The narrative indicates that ultimately 50 students will reside in the dormitory. This parcel cannot accommodate a 178 percent increase in the number of resident students. It cannot accommodate the current 18 students.

The parking calculation information indicated on the planimetric plan is incorrect. One parking space is required for each 200 SF of seminary floor area, but not less than one space for each four seats. It is unclear what portion of the proposed 13,626 SF is dedicated to the seminary and to the dormitory. By our calculations, a minimum of 13, and a maximum of 68 parking spaces are required for this project. The proposed on-site parking is deficient using either standard.

Dormitories are subject to additional use requirements as outlined in Section A-7.E.(1). A minimum buffer of 50 feet is required for this use. The appropriate buffer cannot be provided between the proposed building and the adjacent single-family residence. The seminary/dormitory building is less than 40 feet from the eastern property line. A six-foot fence is proposed along the this property line with no additional landscaping and only ten feet from the building. An exterior staircase is within ten feet of the lot line.

This proposal, as currently configured, does not meet the higher standards required for special permit uses or the POR bulk requirements. The applicant must scale back the project and limit the number of resident students to more closely conform to Sections 255-27 and 255-28, as well as the POR bulk standards. In addition, the revised proposal must minimize the impact to the adjacent residential property to the east, as well as the state highway.

Rockland County Planning Board Members

NYS General Municipal Law Section 239 requires a vote of a 'majority plus one' of your agency to act contrary to the above findings.*

The review undertaken by the Rockland County Planning Department is pursuant to, and follows the mandates of Article 12-B of the New York General Municipal Law. Under Article 12-B the County of Rockland does not render opinions, nor does it make determinations, whether the item reviewed implicates the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act. The Rockland County Planning Department defers to the municipality forwarding the item reviewed to render such opinions and make such determinations if appropriate under the circumstances.

In this respect, municipalities are advised that under the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act, the preemptive force of any provision of the Act may be avoided (1) by changing a policy or practice that may result in a substantial burden on religious exercise, (2) by retaining a policy or practice and exempting the substantially burdened religious exercise, (3) by providing exemptions from a policy or practice for applications that substantially burden religious exercise, or (4) by any other means that eliminates the substantial burden.

Proponents of projects are advised to apply for variances, special permits or exceptions, hardship approval or other relief.
